Tuesday at 11 o'clock between thirty and fifty of Chipley's most prominent citizens and business men met at the public school building to perfect organization of the anti-saloon league, and to devise ways and means of systematic work to defeat the petition asking for the order of a "wet or dry" election in Washington county, which is now before the commissioners and will be acted upon on the 17th inst.

The meeting was harmonious all the way through, every one being imbued with the one idea of defeating said petition, and if they don't do it, they'll most, for ardent and enthusiastic workers have been sent into every precinct in the county, each one armed with credentials and documents to facilitate their work.

Even should the petition get through and the election be ordered, the county would vote overwhelmingly "dry"—as it now is—but our people want to save Washington county the $500 it will cost to hold said election, to say nothing of the campaign.
